Correction: Legions Club Willoughby Membership renewal

Due to a change by the Legions Club management, all Club Willoughby bridge players will need to renew their 2020 Legions Club membership or sign in at the reception desk when they come to play. There is a cost of $7.00 that will give membership until 30th June 2021 (18 months). The January newsletter advised that the change would start on 1st July 2020, but it is immediate.

Previously issued 2019 Club Willoughby memberships (including discount cards) have been expired. You will need to approach Legion club staff directly to renew your membership (or to join), as this is no longer done by the NSBC.

I apologise for any inconvenience but this was taken out of my control. All members and guests of NSBC who play bridge at Willoughby must either join the Legion club or sign in each time they play.

Thanks, kind regards, Mike Prescott Manager

Webmaster

I was born in Tientsin (now Tianjin), China and arrived in Sydney in 1952. After studying Science at Sydney Uni and getting married (and later divorced), I did research in Cosmic Ray Physics for a few years before joining an IT consulting company. In time I started my own software company and after 25 years in the real world, went back to Sydney Uni to do IT support.

My father had played bridge in China, so an interest in card games – poker, solo, rickety, etc was always there, finally graduating to rubber bridge. After about a year we wandered (blundered?) into a state pairs event at the NSWBA. People such as Seres, Smilde ... – were kind enough to explain that tricks did not get mixed up in the middle, but were kept in front of each player. I think we were the only ones who were surprised that we came absolutely last in the event.

Since then I have played with many partners – none of whom has been able to lift me to any stratospheric levels in bridge success. But I love this fascinating game and happily turn up – week after week – to enjoy the process.

Following retirement in 2011, I have been a volunteer for meals-on-wheels, Ozharvest, refugee programs, English tutoring, museum guiding etc, and managing web sites (NSBC, backgammon club, several personal sites including my own and my physics alumni group). I also enjoy picking up grandkids (I have 5) from school and even had a 6-month supervising contract for the 2016 Census.

Beginners' lessons again!

Word of mouth is our best source of new players: do you know anyone who would like to learn? Our teachers are:

Liz Wilkinson at Club Willoughby

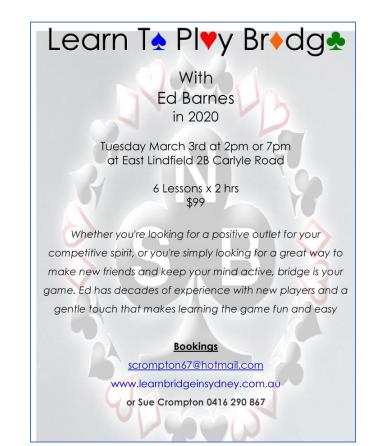

Ed Barnes at East Lindfield

Club Willoughby

The lessons with Liz start on 3rd February. There are still a few spots for latecomers.

East Lindfield

The lessons with Ed start 3rd March, so there is still plenty of time to enrol at East Lindfield.

Club Championship nights

For the strongest competition of the week, come and play on our Championship nights, when we run a series of events throughout the year that all award red points and that bring together our most competitive players. For many years these Championship nights have been run at Club Willoughby, but now there is an additional Championship night at East Lindfield.

Tuesdays at East Lindfield

Blue Ribbon Matchpoint Pairs

These championships are in progress.

State Mixed Pairs Qualifying

This event starts on March 3rd, and runs for three Tuesday nights at 7:30 at East Lindfield.

Thursdays at Club Willoughby

Men's and Women's Matchpoint Pairs

These championships are in progress.

The Gold Coast Swiss Pairs

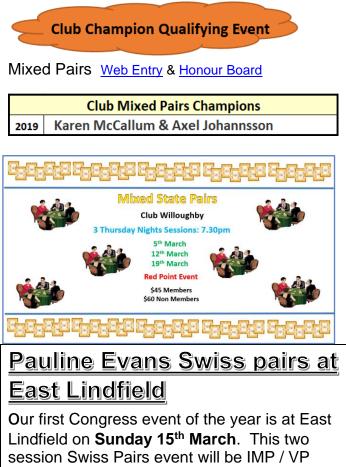

This is a two-week event on Thursday nights starting 13th February, just prior to the ABF Gold Coast week.

No bridge on Thursday night, 27th February 2020, (Gold Coast Week) Day games as usual.

Club Mixed Pairs Championships

The Club Mixed Pairs will be held over three Thursday nights, starting the 5th March at 7:30 at Club Willoughby. This is Matchpoint scored, an ideal time to test your mettle on a Thursday night. Qualifies to State mixed finals scored. This event has been sponsored by the Evans family in remembrance of Pauline Evans a long-time member and an excellent bridge player.

Interclub Teams at Trumps

This annual event will be held at Trumps (last year's winners), on Sunday 8th March 2020. We require about 8 teams in various grades from Open, Intermediate and Novice, and we would like to win! If you would like to represent your club, see Mike about entering.

ABF Annual McCutcheon and Improver Analysis

The ABF collects Masterpoint awards every month from all clubs, and from congresses and National events. The MPs are accumulated in the Masterpoint Centre "data warehouse" which is used to present reports at National, State and Club levels. We currently present MP rank promotions each month from this source.

Planning at Trick one!

By Pat O'Connor

We are East. Our hand is ▲76 ♥ AT65 ◆A83 ▲9854.

	Standard or	2/1 Bidding
West	North	East	South (D)
			1 🌩
Pass	3 🌩	Pass	4 🔶
All Pass
	Bidding Notes
1 🌩	1 h Normal 5+ spades
3 🌩	Limit raise (add 3 HCPs fo	or singleton)
4 🌩	ОК

South opens 1♠, West passes and North raises to 3♠, showing four spades and 10-12 points. We pass and South raises to 4♠. All pass, partner leads the ♥Q and dummy comes down.

Dummy has four card support for spades and 10 points including three for the singleton, a bit pushy! Declarer plays the ♥2 from dummy and we pause to think. It is good discipline to do this on every hand when dummy comes down. Don't rush into playing a card just because declarer has played from dummy.

What holding do you think partner has led from?

It looks like partner has led from an honour sequence headed by the $\mathbf{\nabla} Q$.

Who has the ♥K?

If partner had the $\mathbf{\Psi}K$ as well as the $\mathbf{\Psi}Q$ they would have led the king, so it is certain that declarer has it.

What should we play on this trick?

We should play the \checkmark A in case declarer has the singleton \checkmark K. If it is not a singleton, no harm is done because partner has the \checkmark J and we have the \checkmark 10. Sure, enough declarer follows to the trick with the \checkmark K! Phew!

We continue with a small heart which declarer ruffs and then leads a diamond to the A in dummy. We take the ace. Declarer may try to discard clubs on the A in dummy so we lead the A in case partner has the A. As we hoped, declarer's A is taken by partner with the A.

Partner continues with the \checkmark J which declarer ruffs and goes to dummy with a diamond to the \diamond Q and tries the trump finesse without success as partner wins the \bigstar K. That is our fourth trick and the contract is set.

Post Mortem

It was essential to overtake partner's opening Q lead to cater for the possibility of a singleton with declarer. If we were defending a contract where South opened a notrump it would not be imperative to play the ace at trick one because declarer wouldn't have a singleton.

Anita's tips on how to improve at bridge:

- PRACTICE, practice, practice! Playing bridge at least twice a week keeps you "in the groove".
- REVIEW: At the end of each session, sit down with your partner and go over any problem hands. If you can't agree on the best bid/play/defence, email me and ask!
- COMPARE: Have a look at Pianola and see which boards you did well/did badly. Look at what happened at other tables.
- LEARN: Keep your eye on the lessons available and sign up for anything helpful.
- READ: Read a bridge book. I didn't read bridge books for a long time (I found them boring!) However, I have discovered some authors who are very clear but concise and who keep me interested: Pat O'Connor (from NSBC) who has written 3 great quiz books that are an excellent resource; Tina Zines – Intermediate Bridge Play Problems (starts easy – gets progressively harder); Barbara Seagram – wonderful text books and also quiz books on declarer play and defence and, of course, my absolute favourite – Eddie Kantar, who is entertaining and incredibly informative. I even give Eddie Kantar lessons on Fridays to Intermediate players!

- CHALLENGE YOURSELF! L can't emphasise this one too much. You won't improve if you do the same things session after session. That means when you are doing consistently well in a rookie session, move to the Restricted. When you feel comfortable in Restricted, it's time to move to the Open or to play in restricted congresses. The more you play against better players, the more you will learn, and your bridge will improve (even though your results will initially suffer). Be a little fish in a big pond, rather than the reverse.
- FOCUS: Get used to cutting down on "chat" until you have finished the round. This means that you won't constantly be running behind and feeling pressured to play too quickly, without proper thought.
- PLAN each hand as declarer/defender. Don't play a single card until you have thought about what is going to happen.
- THINK ahead. As defender, if you have an Ace, decide early on when you are going to take it and what you are going to lead when you get in. If you have a Queen or King, decide whether you are going to cover dummy's honour or duck smoothly.
- GO ONLINE and practice with a program such as BBO (Bridge Base Online).

Most of all – ENJOY YOUR BRIDGE AND BE PLEASANT TO YOUR PARTNER AND OPPONENTS.

Bridge is a strange game

An Insight into the Laws of Duplicate Bridge Part 2 – Comparable Calls

By Tony Howes

The Laws of bridge are changed every 10 years. The last changes came into force in August 2017 and the most significant of the 2017 changes was the introduction of the concept of Comparable Calls.

Prior to this change there were a number of situations/infractions, such as calls out of turn or insufficient bids, that would force the offender or their partner to pass either once, or for the rest of the auction. These Law changes introduced the concept that the offender can replace their call with a Comparable Call with no penalty. This could then produce a "Bridge Result" that would not have been possible under the old Laws.

A Comparable call is defined as one:

- 1 having the same or similar meaning as the original call,
- 2 defining a subset of the possible meanings of the original call,
- 3 having the same purpose as the original call.

Whilst the offender does not have to replace the original call with a comparable call, failure to do so will force their partner to pass for either one round or the rest of the auction, depending on the infraction, plus there would be lead penalties should the offending side become defenders.

Let's look at some examples:

The dealer is North, but before North calls, South passes out of turn. Under the old laws South would have had to pass for one round - leaving their partner North holding a 1 vopener and having to guess what to do, knowing that South must pass. Under the new Laws, North can bid their hand knowing that South has the option of replacing their original Pass with a Comparable call. Here any response that limits South's hand to values of less than an opening hand might be allowed as a comparable call, i.e. 1NT or 2v. This would then produce the result that would have happened had the infraction not occurred. South would not be allowed to change their call to any call that does not limit their hand to values of less than an opening bid. For example, here a bid of 1♠ or 2♣ would be open ended and would not be allowed as a comparable call.

In the next example, the dealer is West, but East opens the auction with a multi bid of 2. The bidding reverts back to West, the Dealer, who passes. North now opens 1. – East would now be allowed to overcall either a weak 2. or 2. if their original intention was to show a weak 2 in a major as this is a subset of their original call.

The final example is where one side is bidding towards a slam.

One player bids 4NT (Ace ask) and their partner responds 4 (insufficient) meaning to show one ace (as a director with 35 years' experience, I can assure you this happens far more often than you would expect). The 4 bidder could replace their insufficient bid with a sufficient bid that would show 1 Ace and the auction continues as if no infraction had occurred.

A couple of examples follow:

There are some defensive false-cards that can never cost and only gain. Here are a couple:

	Dummy
West	4 5	East
🌩 JT2	Declarer	🔶 АЗ
	🔶 КQ98764

Declarer leads dummy's spade (the trump suit) to his king. If West follows low, declarer has only one chance to restrict his spade losers to one that East's ace is now bare. He'll lead a low card and soon be happy.

However, if West false-cards with the ten or knave, declarer has the losing option of continuing with the gueen, hoping to pin West's knave-ten doubleton.

The scientific bidding approach would be for South to bid 4NT, showing a two-suited hand (initially assumed to be the minors).

But there is much to be said for the pragmatic leap to 64 – after all, it means you'll declare the contract!

West led the ace of spades against the slam and declarer ruffed and cashed the ace of trumps.

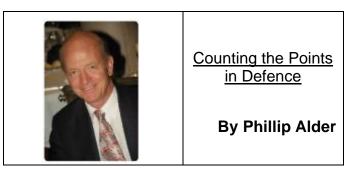

Had West followed with the eight, declarer would have had no option but to cash the king and queen, then cross to the ace of hearts to take the diamond finesse. He would score twelve tricks when the diamond finesse lost. No heavy breathing required.

However, West dropped a devilish knave under the ace of trumps. Believing this card to be singleton, declarer thought he needed to finesse in clubs to pick up East's putative holding of four cards headed by the ten. To that end, he crossed to the ace of hearts at trick three and played a club to the nine.

Disaster! The nine of clubs lost to the ten and the defence came to their king of diamonds shortly after. Down one. It was a great falsecard by West which could never cost.

When I am defending, I tend to ask myself, "Will this false-card cost?" If the answer is no, I'll make the false-card, even if I can't clearly see at that moment whether it will gain.

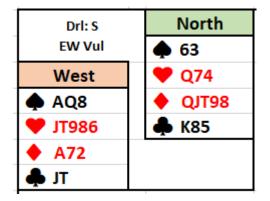

Our Game of Bridge

The bidding proceeds:

Standard or 2/1 Bidding
West	North	North East South (D)
Pass	1NT Pass 2 🌩
All Pass
	Bidding N	lotes
1 🌩	1 🔶 Normal Opening
1NT	Normal 5-9 Bal
2 🔶 Normal 6S, min Hand

You (West) decide to lead the ♥J. Dummy comes down:

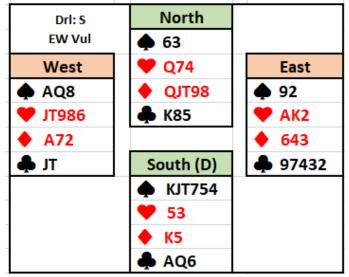

Partner turns up with \checkmark A-K-2. You win the first 2 tricks, but South ruffs the third heart. Declarer then crosses to dummy (\bigstar 6 to \bigstar K), and returns the \bigstar 3 to his \bigstar J.

How would you defend?

As always, check out the high-card points.

There are eight in the dummy, you have twelve and partner has already produced seven. That only leaves thirteen points, which must sit in declarer's hand.

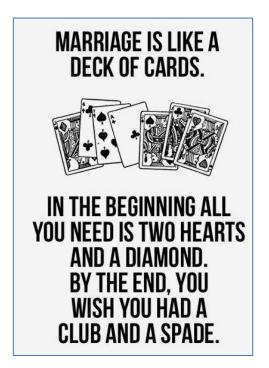

The Full Hand:

There is just one chance to defeat the contract: If East has the $\Rightarrow 9$ or $\Rightarrow 10$.

Lead another heart (perhaps after cashing the ◆A, though that isn't necessary here). When East ruffs high with his ♠9, it effects an uppercut, giving you three trump tricks to go with the three red-suit winners.

You have set the 2^{sh} contract for a good score.

This hand (board 2) was played at East Lindfield on Saturday 9th November, at 19 tables.

Suggested bidding solution:

South opens with 1NT and North transfers to 2♥. South super accepts with a cue 2♠ (showing maximum, 4 hearts and ♠A control). North retransfers to 3♥ (it's usually best to hide the strong flat hand from the opponents) then uses Keycard Blackwood. Partner shows 0/3 controls (3 Aces) and North bids 6♥.

Play of the hand in 6y by South

Best Lead by West?

A difficult choice

- v8 may kill a heart honour in partner's hand
- • A may be right, if it can run away
- $\mathcal{2}7$, not promising anything but the best passive lead

I would probably select the $\clubsuit7$ lead (2nd top from rubbish)

Planning by South in 6 on the $7 lead

You win the A, pitching the losing 6 in dummy. It looks like a good contract, but you will need to set up the diamonds.

Top Winners: $1 \oiint +5 \heartsuit +1 \bigstar +2 \bigstar = 9$ tricksTop Losers $\bigstar A$

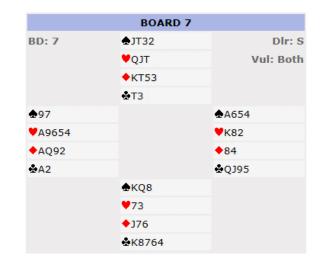

- The lead looks like top of rubbish, it's likely the clubs are in the East hand. The spade loser was discarded on the A
- In order to set up the diamond suit, you may have to ruff them in the South hand high twice.
- So, at T1 win ♣A (discard a spade loser)
- At T2 lead a low heart to dummy
- At T3 start on the diamond suit, with a low diamond towards the short Qx.

Play of the hand in 4 by West

Best lead by North?

On the Bergen or limit raise auctions, I would choose between the $\mathbf{\nabla}Q$ (my preference) or the $\mathbf{\Delta}J$. The $\mathbf{\Delta}J$ was played at both tables where $4\mathbf{\nabla}V$ was defeated.

Planning by East in 4 on the J lead

There is no reason to duck the spade lead. Winners: $4 \neq +1 \neq +1 \neq =7$, + finesse and ruffs. Losers: A deep heart, a spade loser and maybe a diamond and a club

Initial Strategy:

Win A and then start on either the diamond or the club finesse. At least one minor King needs to be onside to make the contract. It will probably also need a diamond ruff in the short hand. North didn't lead a trump (which would have restricted my chances).

But which minor finesse to play first?

Another alternate line is to play to ruff 2 spades, but this requires north to have 4.

Club finesse first:

Here, we chose the losing diamond finesse first. NS quickly cashed their spade winner and exited with a heart switch. This eventually led to West having to ruff 4th ♦ with the 8♥, hoping South could not over ruff. You need some luck or good judgement to win Teams finals. Here, choice of finesse was not quite critical. But you could easily lose your way.
